Operations

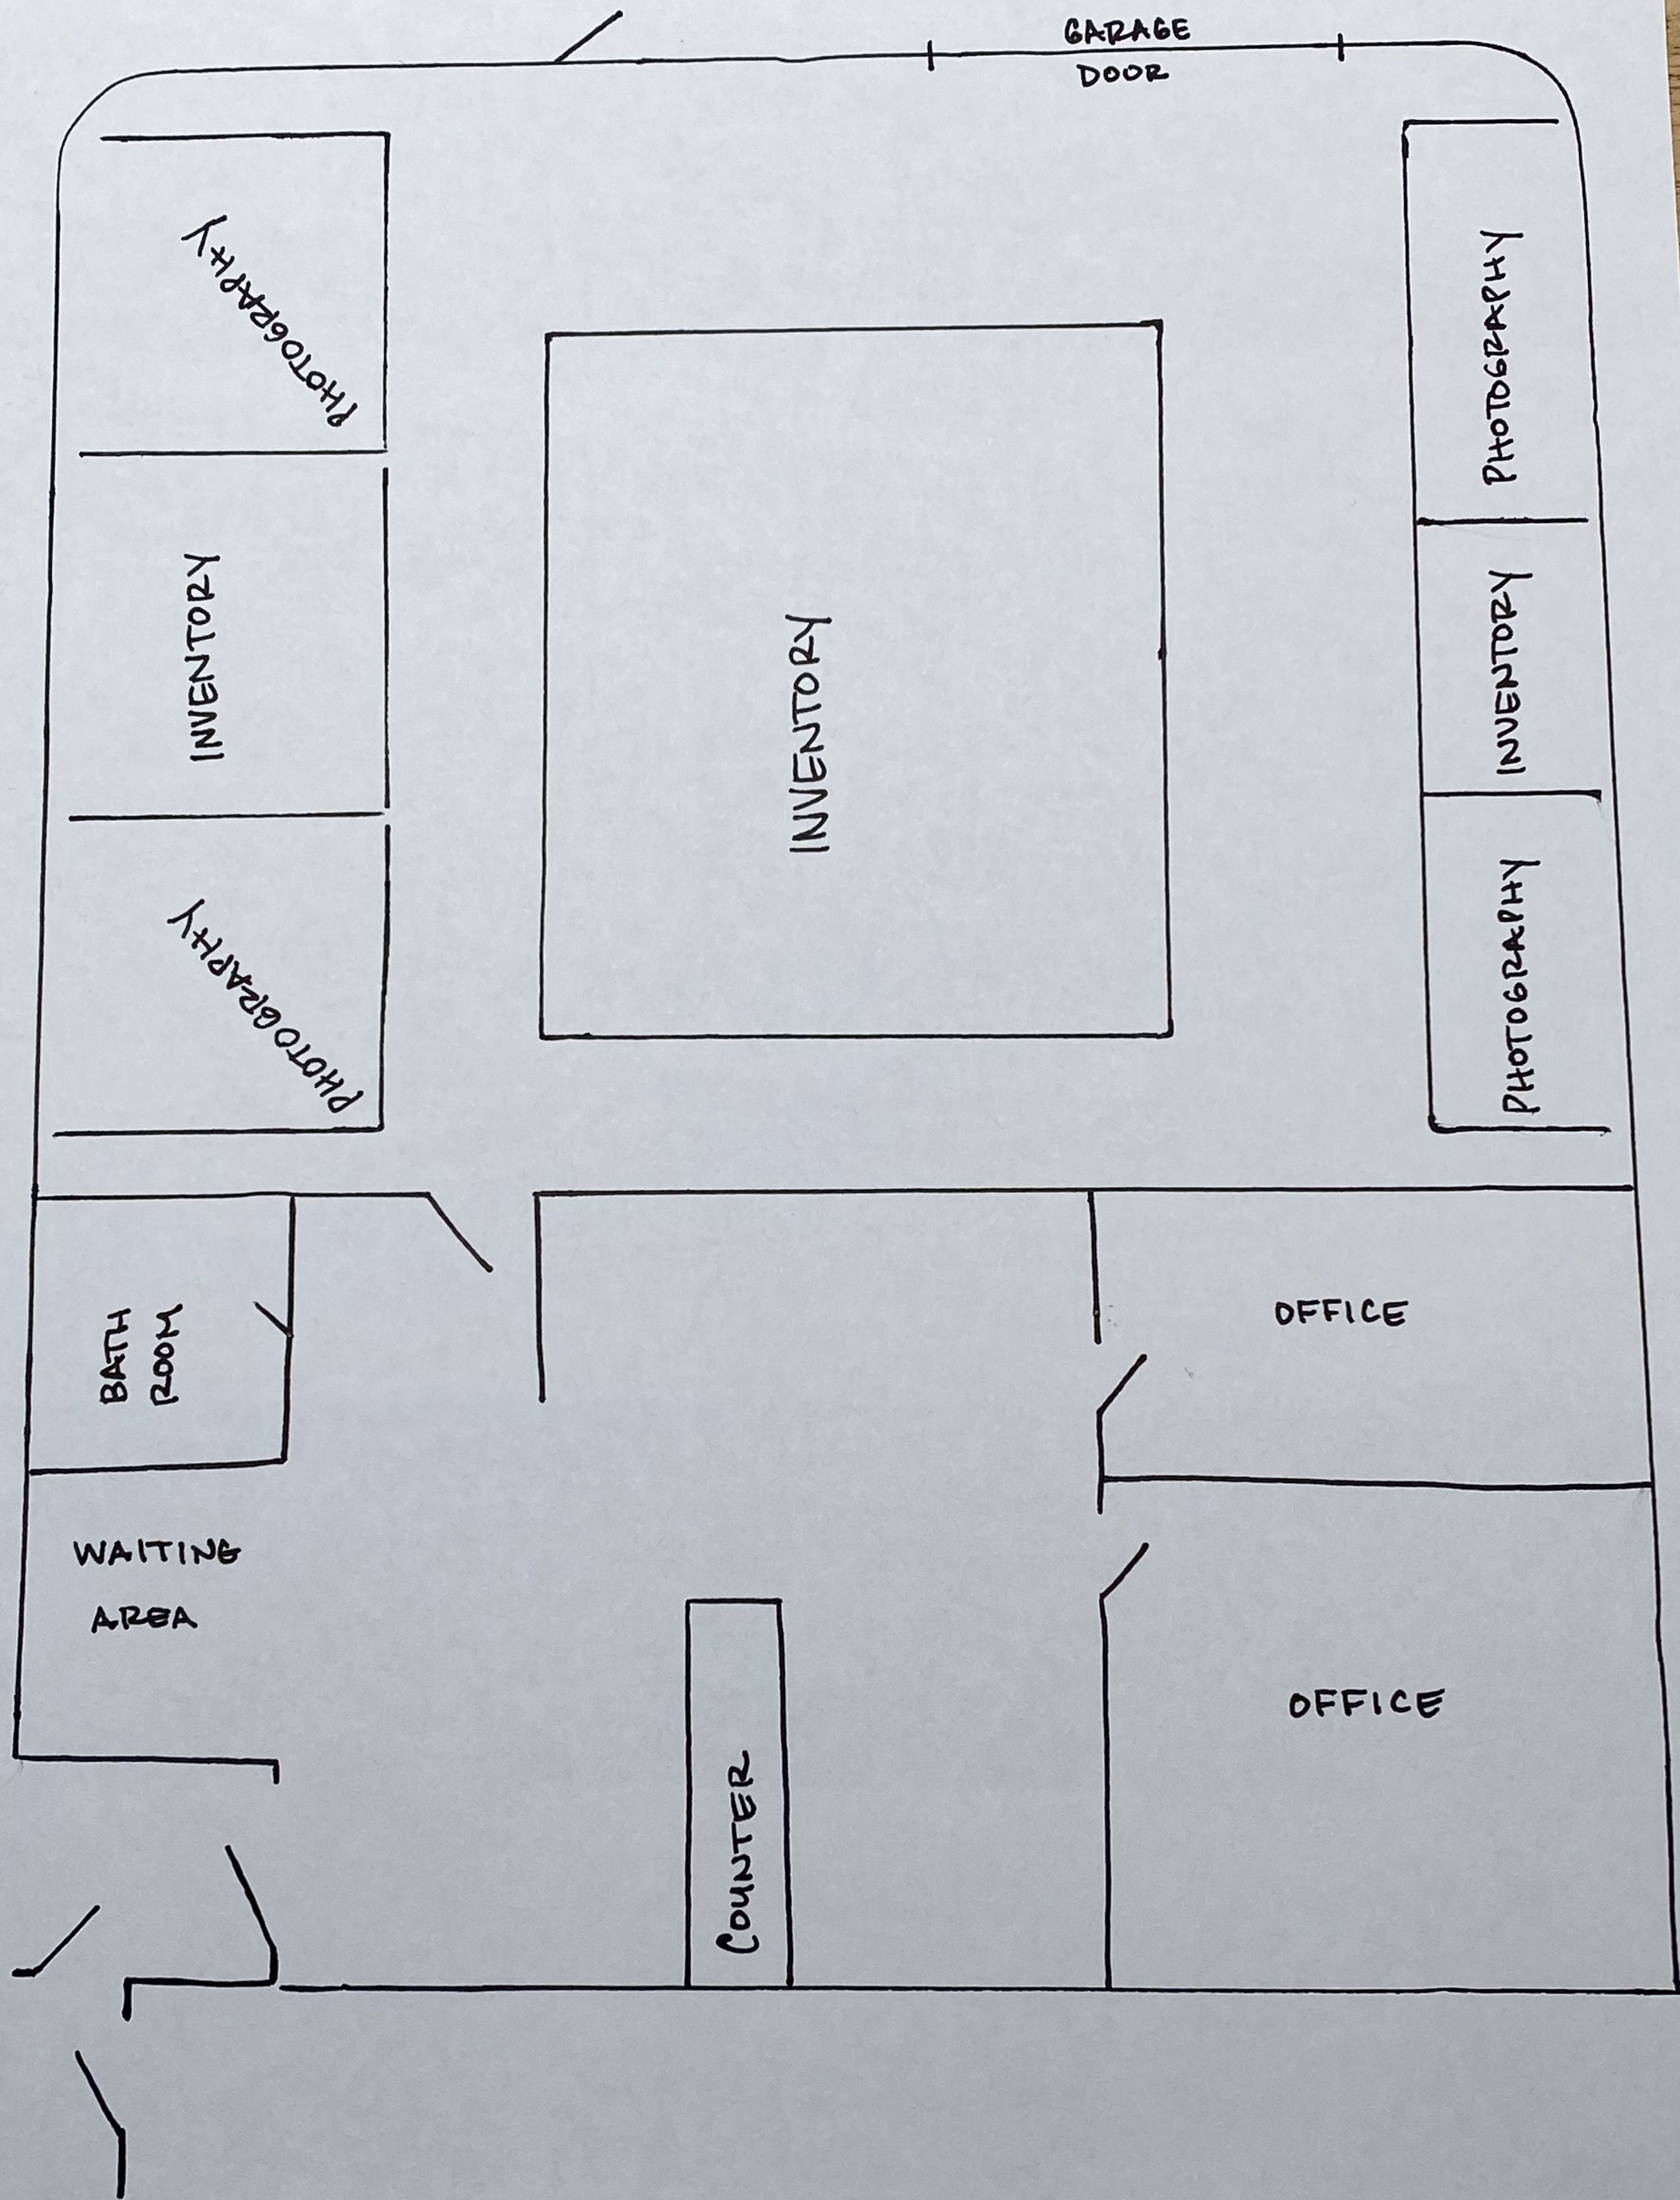

Whether our customers come to us for help with estate liquidation, consignment, clean outs or commercial liquidation, Northeast Resale can provide end-to-end solutions for the removal of unwanted items from properties and homes. Our professional team brings over 10-years of estate sale experience into every project we take on, providing customers with successful results and peace of mind.

For the last 5-years, Northeast Resale has been assisting customers with liquidating assets through online auctions. Our team of creative and tech-savvy professionals are experts at getting items posted online and sold quickly.

Achieving successful results starts with strategic pricing and professional photographs of items for sale. These features make the liquidation online experience exciting for buyers and profitable for customers. At Northeast Resale, our online services extend to both commercial estate liquidation and personal estate sale auction needs as well as consignment. We bring extensive experience into the process to make sure it's quick, stress-free, and profitable.

Warehouse Use

The warehouse will be used for customers that don't have the means to have an estate sale or commercial sale. We will be using the warehouse as a consignment location to sell customers items as well as company owned product via online auction. We would average 2-5 auction pick ups a month with a typical removal time of 11am-6pm.
